

SORBUS VECTOR

31 March 2021

SORBUS VECTOR is a top decile small / mid cap blend-style UK equity fund. The objective is sustained capital growth.

Markets are mostly efficient but the reduction in research coverage and the increase in algorithmic and machine trading creates pockets of inefficiency. Our idiosyncratic process, developed over 25 years, exploits these inefficiencies via a high conviction / high concentration / high active share fund. The process includes elements of growth and value investing with an emphasis on catalyst identification. The fund managers also drive value through strategic board interventions.

SUSTAINABILITY

Democratic capitalism is in crisis. People are no longer content to be merely passive consumers; they are increasingly aware of the wider impact of economic entities, both private and public, and these actors are having to justify their existence beyond the purely commercial.

The world, as ever, faces many challenges and only companies which recognise and take responsibility for helping to tackle these issues will flourish in the long term. The SORBUS investment philosophy has always been focused on the long term, seeking sustainable advantage and to minimise risk. Companies which pursue policies that have a positive impact on environmental, social and governance issues are those most likely to be able to navigate the risks of the coming decades. For most this will be an ongoing process, as improvement invariably is - no organisation or person is without its flaws – but a commitment to maximising benefit and minimising harm will become paramount.

The value of investments, and the income from them, may fall or rise and investors may get back less than they invested. Past performance is no guide to future returns. There can be no assurance that the information provided on this page is accurate or error free. Any user of such information expressly assumes all risks from using the information.

Any investment in smaller companies is speculative and involves a high degree of risk. Many smaller companies securities are relatively illiquid, or “thinly traded,” which tends to increase price volatility. Illiquid securities are often difficult for investors to buy or sell without dramatically affecting the quoted price. In some cases, the liquidation of a position in a smaller company security may not be possible within a reasonable period of time.
